

1) Read the text.

Today we look at the lives of two people, Melissa Gold and her grandmother, Mrs Gold. Here is what Mrs Gold says:

"I'm sixty-one and I live in a small house in Portsville. I've got a garden with nice red and pink roses. And I've got a pet – a dog. Rusty, my dog, is four. I go out with Rusty every morning and every evening. We are often in the garden – I work there and Rusty plays. In the afternoon I usually go shopping. And I have two hobbies, too. On Tuesdays I always play tennis with my friend Margaret, and sometimes I go to Bingo on Fridays with my sister Jennifer."

And now Melissa:

"I'm twelve and I live with my mum and dad in a big old house in Liverpool. I've got two brothers and a sister. Every day from Monday to Friday I go to school and I always do my homework late in the afternoon. I sometimes watch TV or play computer games and at about ten I go to bed. On Saturday morning I often go to town with my friends. I like shopping. In the afternoon I always go to the tennis club and play for two hours. My hobbies? Music, and tennis, of course. In the holidays I sometimes play with my grandmother. She is old but very fast, and I never win."
