

THE TEXT

Once upon a time, there was a young girl named Lea. She had a deep love for animals and dreamt of making a difference in their lives. Lea's mother encouraged her to help animals at a local shelter, where she could take care of abandoned and neglected animals with her friends. They were interested in feeding them healthy food, playing with them and taking them to the vet regularly. Through her fidelity, Lea not only helped these animals find new homes, but also raised awareness about animal protection in her city. Lea's story teaches us the importance of taking care of animals and being their voice when they can't speak for themselves.

Lea always says: "we can judge the heart of a Man by his treatment of animals".
